

New Genesis Consulting Services

Parent Support Group

You are not Alone!!

New Genesis is providing a Parent Support Group. Parents will meet weekly on Wednesday evenings and use New Genesis as a place for emotional and practical support collaborating with other parents who find themselves in similar situations regarding their children and families. The New Genesis Parent Support Group aims to reduce stress, develop constructive coping skills, and be a place to exchange useful information that will build a strong support network for them. Parents will be able to experience others with similar challenges, feel less alone and isolated, and build their own personal toolbox of ideas and solutions to become more effective parents.
